

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn Hosting River's Edge Artisan Festival.

Lambertville, NJ, March 21, 2024 – Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn, a member of Genesis Hospitality, will host the River's Edge Artisan Festival on April 13th and 14th. This free festival is open to the public from 11 am – 4:30 pm.

Experience two days full of artistry along the banks of the Delaware River. Enjoy delicious food, wine, beer and live music featuring Strange Brew and The Ramblers. Explore handcrafted treasures showcased by local artists and vendors, from unique jewelry to beautiful pottery and much more. An assortment of food, wine and beer will be available. Join us for a vibrant celebration of food, family, and local craftsmanship.

This Fall Fest will occur on the grounds of the Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn, a historic restored 19th-century train station located at 11 Bridge St, Lambertville, New Jersey. Named the most picturesque small town in New Jersey by USA Today and one of America's 15 prettiest towns by Forbes, Lambertville is a quaint town that sits right along the Delaware River in Hunterdon County, NJ. It is about an hour's drive from Philadelphia and North Jersey and a short walk over the bridge that connects New Hope, PA, to Lambertville, providing an Instagram-worthy photo-op.

To learn more about this festival and the available spaces for vendors, visit the Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn website at www.lambertvillestation.com.
